KEYS TO BETTER UNDERSTANDING

FOREWORD:

We the members of the 1968 Seminole Chieftain Staff, hope that you enjoy the efforts we have put forth in making this the greatest annual yet.

This yearbook is dedicated to the idea of better understanding.

TO UNLOCK DOORS:

TO SHOW SPIRIT:

TO CLOSE GAPS:

SPIRIT OF OHS

This spot is a prime meeting place for all Osceola High students each morning and between classes. These hallways hold many memories for students of the past and present.

THE SCHOOL BOARD PLANS AHEAD

Education is a cooperative venture between students, teachers, administrators, and the board.

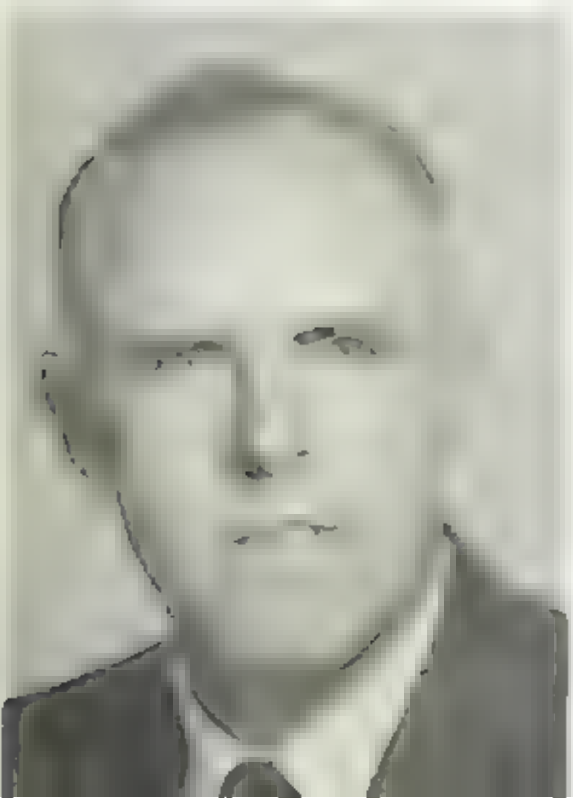

The success of the venture is dependent on all parts working together harmoniously, unifyingly, and unselfishly toward a common goal.

The goal, when achieved, should give all an inner glow and the satisfaction of knowing that the welfare of mankind has been improved as a result of the efforts.

It is hoped that the Class of '68 under the guidance, supervision, and leadership of the teachers, the administrators, and the board will set a goal, will achieve it, and will experience the finer things of life in the years ahead.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Mr. Brewer Hefner

I appreciate having this opportunity to commend those who were responsible for the publication of this year's annual. To me, the fine spirit and attitudes exhibited by each of you in putting this yearbook together are representative of those of the total student body.

It is the display of such spirit and attitudes on the part of our students and teachers that makes the administration of our schools an enjoyable task.

May the joys of having succeeded in your endeavors always come your way.

Sincerely,
Brewer Hefner

OSCEOLA HIGH PRINCIPAL

MR. TULLOS MEAD

Perhaps no program is greater than that of helping students to see the needs and to know their abilities to meet those needs, and helping them to develop the motivation that will make them great.

The school seeks to prepare us, to cause us to be curious, inquiring, concerned, and to make each man and woman take some worthy objective so that the stream of life may be richer because we have lived.

Congratulations to the annual staff for presenting to the students such a fine book that symbolizes greatness, organization, and lasting memories.

Sincerely, Tullos Mead

FINAL YEAR BRINGS SIGHS OF RELIEF

Twelve years and they still act like idiots!

Since the sixth grade Eva's never failed to puzzle Mike!

SENIORS PREPARE FOR COLLEGE

SENIORS COMPETE FOR LAST TIME

The Seniors really showed off their talent on this one!!!

How about this drastic effort?

Ann and Donna look like they enjoy beating up that Seminole spirit.

MR. F.B.L.A. OF ARKANSAS

Rob Taylor

In the fall of 1967 Mrs. J. W. Seymour formed a school club of FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA. The Osceola Club attended the state convention in Little Rock on March 16th. Each school was allowed one student to compete for the title of MR. F.B.L.A. for the state. An objective test was given and six finalists were chosen. These six were interviewed by three Little Rock businessmen about world affairs and what their plans were for the future. Ron was chosen from the six finalists and will go to Washington, D.C. on June 9 - 11 to compete for National MR. F.B.L.A.

Osceola received 3 points toward Sweepstake Award which is the most any new chapter has ever received.

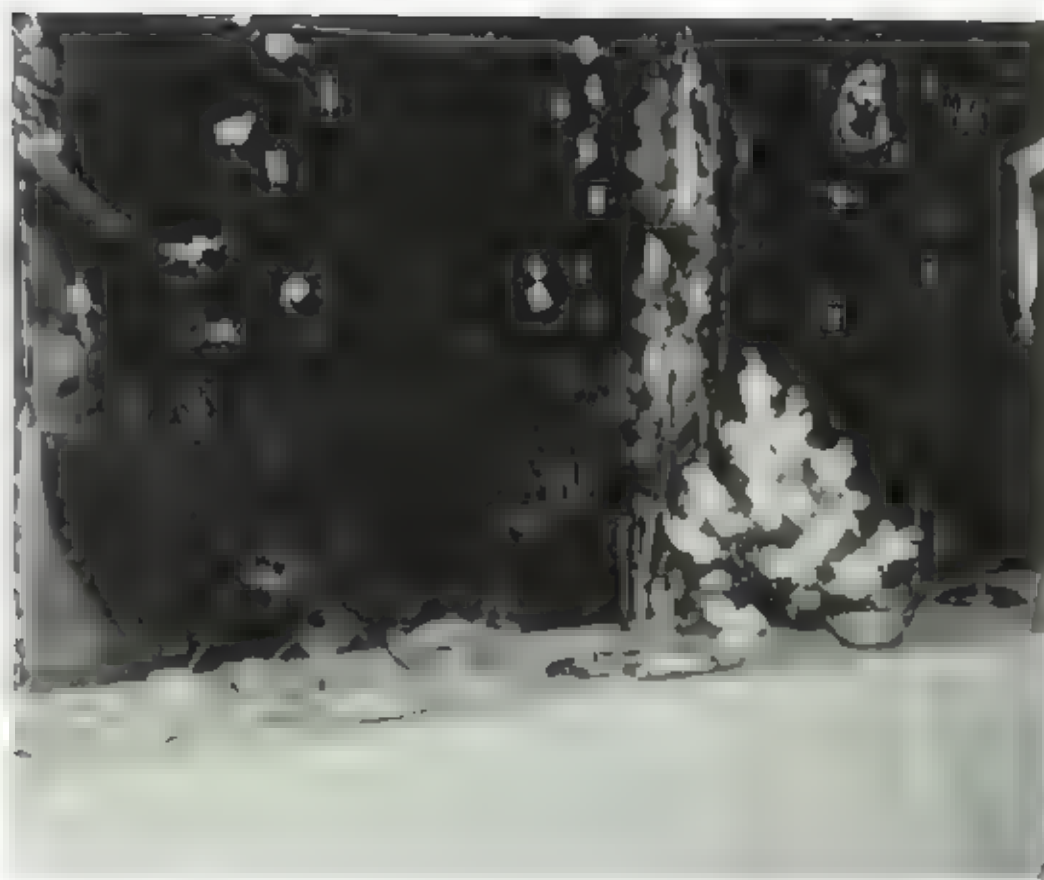

JUNIOR COUNSELOR BOYS STATE

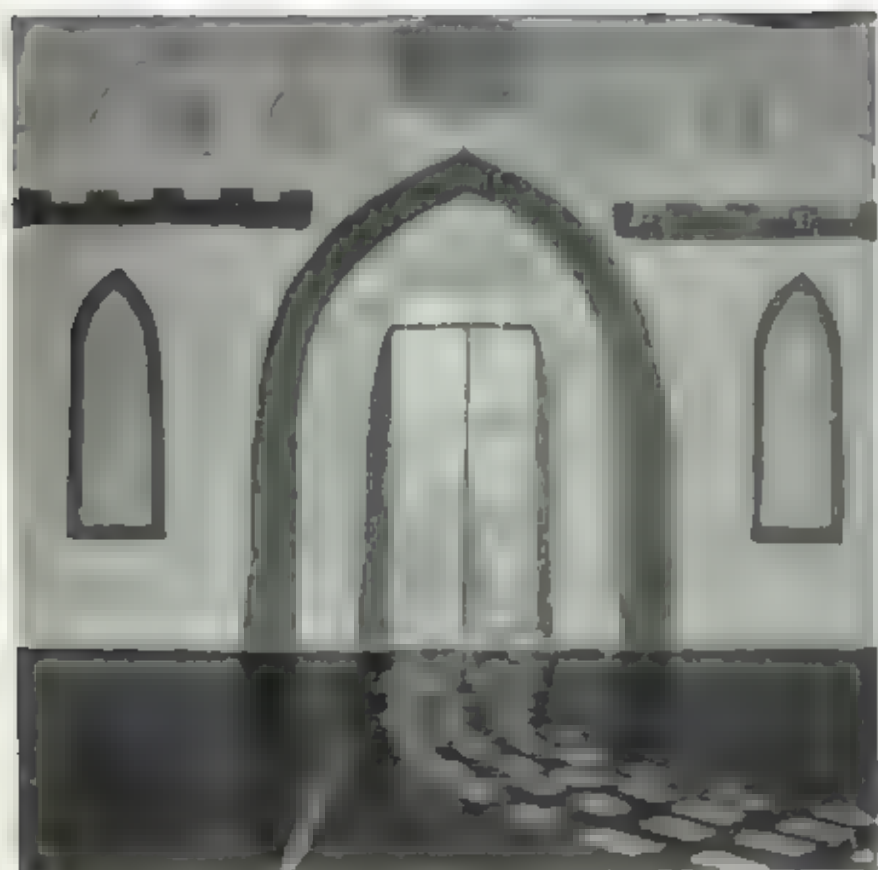

Tommy Meadows is one of 100 boys that was chosen from 1100 BOYS STATE DELEGATES of 1967 to be a Junior Counselor for 1968. This is the first time an Osceola Boys State delegate has been given this honor.

These Seniors are weary from the trials and tribulations of school. Charlie, "Corky," and Moreland, where is your interest in Economics?

The oak tree on south campus gives a picture of spun lace.

This was the year of ice and snow. We lost five days in January, because the roads were too glazed-over for the busses to run their usual routes

Our biggest snow came on March 21 and 22. You can see from these pictures that everything was beautiful. We were out of school on the 22nd. The irony of this snow was that we had to go to school on the 23rd (Saturday) for one of our make-up days

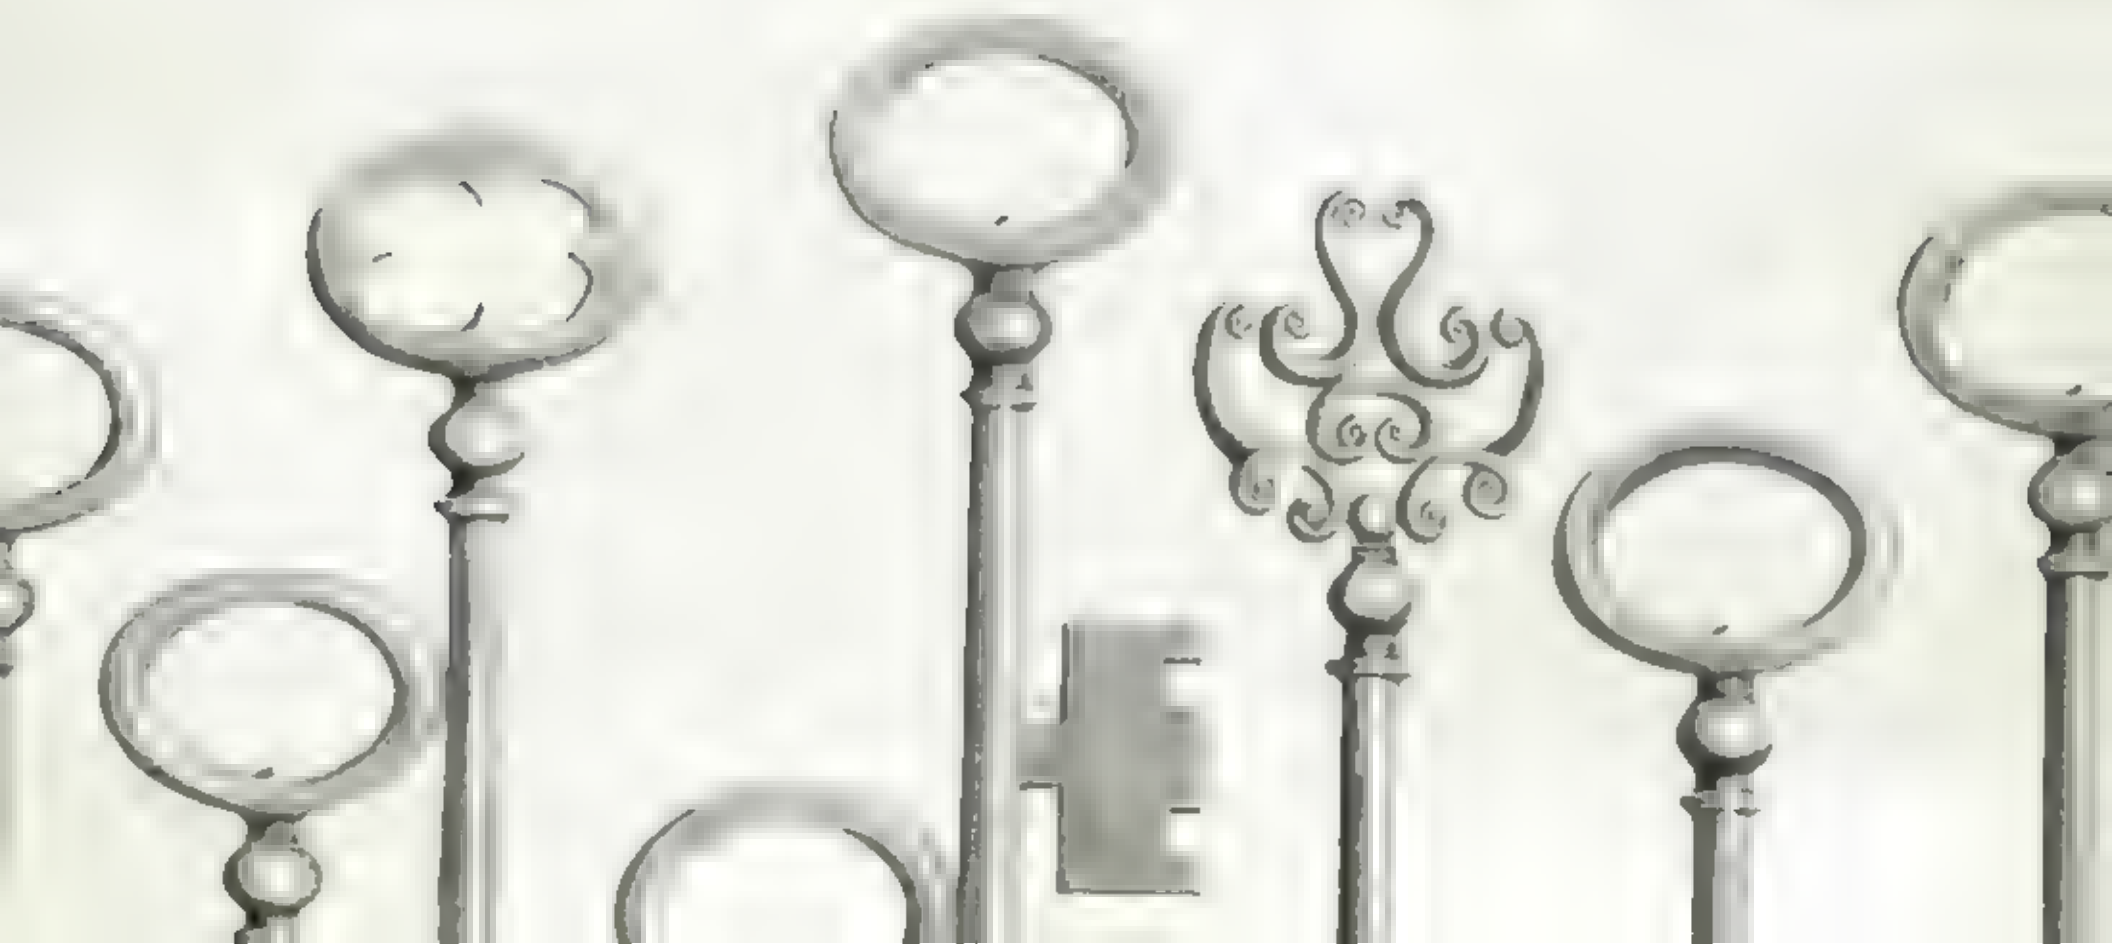

The magnolia tree on north campus gives the feeling that each leaf is ready to serve you "snow cream."

Johnson is generally a street filled with Students' cars. But on the 22nd it was quiet and calm.

What better proving ground can there be than on the football field where a boy can exhibit the challenge of being a true American, a fighting American, if need be; and one who has known the bitter taste of defeat yet who despises any person who will take the easy way out by giving up.

BASKETBALL

Patience, desire, a-will-to-play, ability, and potential are a few terms one hears during an athletic season. Here in Osceola we think of our basketball program as being beneficial later in life from the "carry-over" values. We demand discipline, good physical conditioning, sportsmanship, and most of all TEAMWORK. All of these are bound to be helpful as one makes his way through life.

OSCEOLA JUNIOR HIGH PRINCIPAL

Mr. Elkin H. Thompson

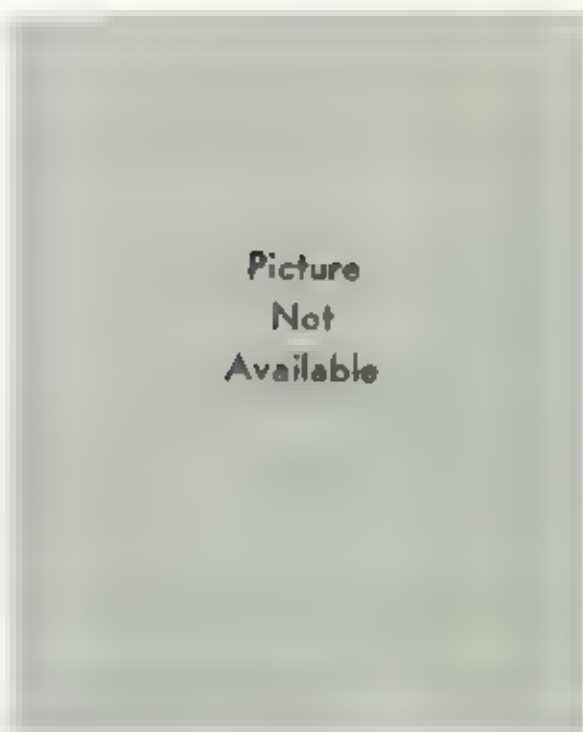

I often recall a world known quotation that is carved in marble at the Air Force Academy: "Man's flight through life is sustained by the power of his knowledge."

It is at the Junior High level that we start preparing ourselves for high school and college by developing good study habits. Whatever learning that takes place or knowledge gained in the future will depend upon your desire to achieve in the Junior High School.

Sincerely,
Elkin H. Thompson, Principal

AMERICA'S ROBERT E. LEE

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY

MECHANICAL DRAWING was offered in the curriculum for the first time this year. Mr. Steed is the instructor.

The STUDENT COUNCIL sponsored the drive for the ST. JUDE HOSPITAL in Memphis. Here we find Carolyn White, Clifford Pugh, Pam Wildy, and Moreland White heading the drive.

Miss Passmore (Junior High instructor), Karen Dunahoo, Annette Woodard, Peggy Taylor, Barbara Jensen, Diane Burleson, Mary Harris, Gloria Cline, Jackie Wells, Mrs. Phillips (High School instructor), Della Ashley.

High School Home Economics students entertained Junior High students with teas to acquaint them with the Department.

These pictures were made during the first period's tea. The theme was DAISY PETAL PICKIN' TIME.

Mary Harris serves some of the Freshmen punch.

These girls are ready to enjoy the dainty and delicious party food.

VICTORIOUS JUNIORS STEAL COMPETITION

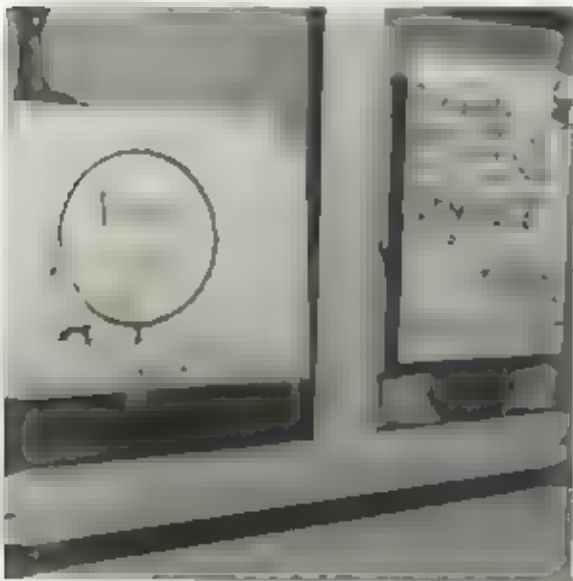

Wonder what Mr. Mead thought of this?

A typical Junior idea

Seems like the Juniors and Seniors got together in this one

What's this?

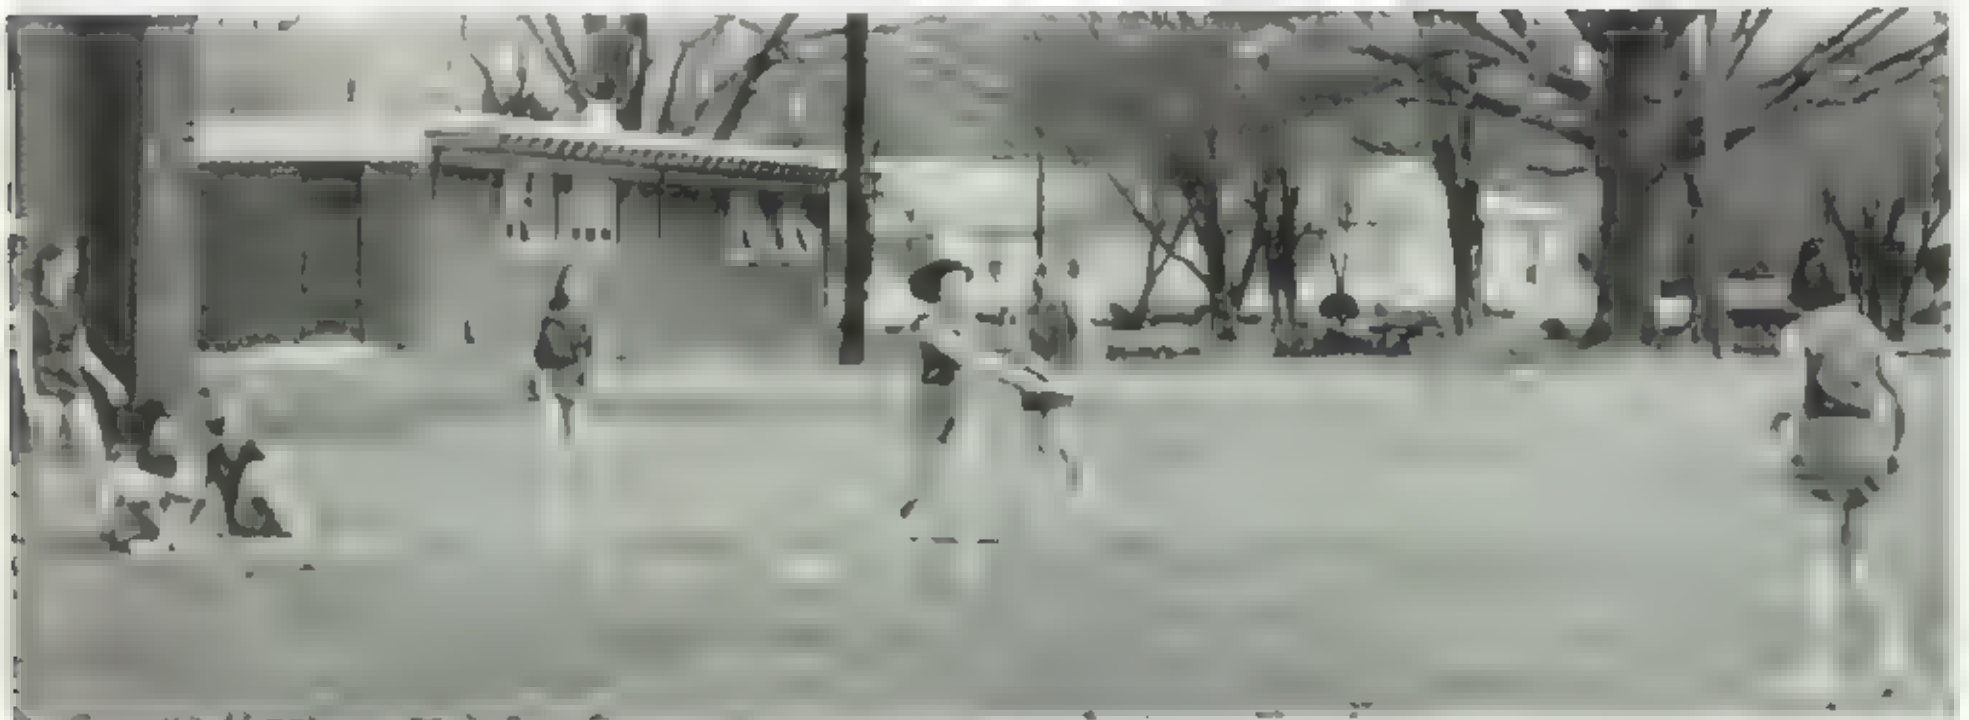

GIRLS' P.E.

Run, Jane, run! Anne might just catch the ball for a change.

Miss Draper demonstrates some basketball techniques.

The girls were glad when spring came and P. E. classes were outside. Here we find Catherine has hit the ball, but where did it go.
